

BHAVIN IT!

White walls and large blackboards provide a monochromatic design scheme that is accented with bold splashes of yellow and blue, creating a modern and timeless office space for ASI Data Science. To meet the client's needs, Bhavin Taylor Design developed a large glass wall that divides the office into two whilst maintaining a bright and airy feel. On one side of the glass, custom plywood desks and ergonomic chairs house the permanent staff and on the other a multifunctional space that offers meeting areas, hot desks and a large open space that can be adapted by the use of occasional furniture for the company to hold presentations and workshops.

VITAMIN SEAS

Milliken tells us it has joined 'Healthy Seas, a Journey from Waste to Wear'. Healthy Seas aims to recover discarded fishing nets from the seas and to regenerate them into high-quality ECONYL yarn, which is subsequently turned into brand-new products such as Milliken carpets.

Alison Kitchingman, Director of Marketing and Design at Milliken, said: 'In line with our commitment to making a positive impact on workplace health, wellbeing and the environment, we are delighted to now be a part of the Healthy Seas initiative. Joining enables us to demonstrate our support to this worthwhile project. We look forward to contributing in a practical hands-on manner to future clean-up operations.'
